

To whom it may concern

I'd like to thank Greg for the professional manner in which he enabled me to sell my property. I had listed it several times over a period of a few years with no results. I contacted another person who promised a quick sale by a certain date and who started jerking me around within a week. I contacted Greg who explained the process to me and enlightened me as to what had been happening with the previous experience and my house closed in less than two weeks. A last minute hiccup delayed it one day, but through no fault of Greg. I'd recommend Greg to anyone looking for a quick sale of their property.
